HOW WE CAN HELP YOU

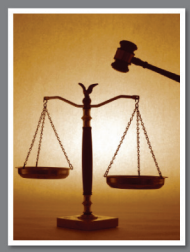
Resolve Individual Complaints

- Are you a victim of false or misleading advertising?
- Were you misled into making bad investments?
- Is your HMO or health plan denying you care or coverage?
- Is your employer refusing to pay minimum wages?
- Are your civil rights being violated?
- Are you a victim of consumer fraud?

These are a broad array of issues that affect New Yorkers daily. If you are facing such challenges, you may file a complaint by calling the Attorney General's toll-free Helpline 1-800-771-7755 or visiting www.ag.ny.gov

The Attorney General's office offers mediation services if we believe our intervention can help resolve individual problems. Where necessary, we may refer you to the right government agency with expertise relevant to your situation.

Prosecute Persistent Fraud and Abuses



The Attorney General has broad jurisdiction to prosecute businesses or individuals who persistently break the law or defraud the public. In recent years, our office has successfully exposed home improvement scams, Medicaid fraud, drug traffickers and civil rights violations.

These lawsuits are brought on behalf of New York State. The office is prohibited from representing private citizens in legal disputes or bringing private lawsuits in state and federal courts.

It's important though, to report violations of the law to the Office of the Attorney General. Citizen reports are an important tool in building cases against those who prey on the public.

Advocate for Transparent and Accountable Government

We promote your right to know by making vital information available to you and providing you with better avenues for reporting problems.

New York Open Government
A government accountability and transparency website, www.nyopengovernment.com gives you access to information about lobbyists, political campaign contributions and state contracts. It allows users to search across multiple databases, using multiple criteria to easily find information. Additional options allow you to export data for more complex analysis and share information through social media programs.

Taxpayer Protection Bureau
This specialized office roots out fraud and returns money illegally stolen from New York taxpayers and their government. The Taxpayer Protection Bureau cracks down on targets including: firms that rip-off government pension funds, contractors that over-bill taxpayers, and large-scale tax cheats. It also encourages and works with whistle-blowers to expose corruption.
